WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Medford Weather:

There will be some overnight fog in the Western valleys but other than that it will be mostly clear except for some high clouds. Highs will run 5 to 15 degrees above normal. The warmest day will be Thursday at most locations although Friday will be pretty warm as well.

Eureka Weather:

Variable high and mid clouds will spread across Northwest California through Wednesday as a frontal system gradually dissipates offshore. A slightly stronger front will bring a chance of rain Friday or Friday night.

Reno Weather:

High pressure over the Sierra and western Nevada will bring dry conditions through the work week. Temperatures will remain around average today before increasing to well above average Wednesday through Friday. The weekend will bring cooler temperatures along with modest chances for light precipitation, mainly well North of Interstate 80.

Sacramento Weather:

Expect dry weather with above average daytime temperatures through much of this week and a chance of rain north of Interstate 80 Friday night and early Saturday.

San Francisco Weather:

Unseasonably warm and dry weather conditions will persist through the remainder of the work week as high pressure builds aloft. A weak system passes to the North Friday night and may result in light precipitation over the North Bay otherwise, mostly dry conditions then prevail through the upcoming weekend.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY:

Hanford Weather:

Dry weather will continue for the next several days as a ridge of high pressure dominates the pattern. Except for areas of night and morning low clouds and fog in the San Joaquin valley skies will be mostly clear through Thursday. A warming trend is expected through midweek with high temperatures averaging well above normal.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A high system and offshore winds will continue the well above normal temperatures through Friday. The high will weaken and with onshore flow the temperatures will drop over the weekend and overnight low clouds and fog may form along the coast.

Extreme Southwestern California including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

Fair and warm weather will continue for the coming week. Offshore flow will produce breezy Northeast winds in coastal foothills and below passes and canyons through Wednesday. Onshore flow will return Friday and Saturday for cooler weekend weather and some coastal clouds nights and mornings.

Southeast California Weather:

Temperatures will be significantly cooler today with highs on the lower deserts in the 70s only slightly warmer Wednesday. Breezy to windy daytime conditions continue today and Wednesday most noticeably over the lower Colorado River Valley. High pressure rebuilds for warmer temperatures Thursday and Friday. Anticipate little change in temperatures over the weekend
